Specification

This internal termination box is designed for use in residential, small and large business premises. It houses a single splice tray and allows fibres from internal or external cables to be spliced to pigtails for connection to the optical network unit. Installation can be quickly achieved within a home, office or communication room environment. Internal or external cable can enter the unit from the bottom of the box or through the wall.

Applications

- Internal application
- Data Centre or telecommunications networks
- For use in multi dwelling units or demarcation points within a network
